Hi, I'm Kris Canaday. As a professional contract paralegal, I've spent more than 15 years reducing heavy workloads, minimizing overhead, and improving profitability for solo practitioners, small and large firms, corporate legal departments, and governmental agencies.

Do You Have More Work Than You Can Handle?

I'm sure you'll agree – no lawyer can do everything.

There are countless pressing matters: Short-term projects. Long-term projects, Large, complex cases. Multiple cases. Document reviews. Legal strategizing. Even the daily overflow can be taxing. There's always the need for professional, experienced help.

This becomes especially evident in times of downsizing or a hiring freeze. When you're facing a large complex case...or too many caseloads. When your full-time staff goes on vacation or medical leave. When you're trying to grow the practice...or just keep it above water.

It just makes good business sense to hire an experienced contract paralegal...especially when hiring a traditional employee isn't a viable option.
